

Aquifer Recharge - Water Resources Issues

EXHIBIT & SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES AND PAYMENT FORM

AGWT - AGWA Annual Conference

Ontario, CA ~ January 30 & 31, 2012

The American Ground Water Trust and the Association of Ground Water Agencies are seeking exhibitors and sponsors for our annual Water Resources Issues Conference. We are expecting 150+ mover and shakers involved with water management responsibilities for which aquifer recharge is, or could be, playing an important role.

The slate of 28 invited conference presenters will provide state-of-the-art expertise and will share experiences of recharge projects throughout the US with an emphasis on the role of recharge as a solution to California's water resources issues.

The products and services of exhibitors and sponsors will enjoy a high profile of exposure in the hotel atrium area (immediately outside the conference room) which will be used for registration, coffee & breaks, lunch and the Monday evening reception.

For more details, or to discuss customized sponsorship opportunities (such as sponsoring lunch, or printing of the conference program), call the AGWT office (800 423 7748).

Thanks for your consideration. Exhibitors and sponsors really help with the continued success of this annual event. Past exhibitors and sponsors have included:

Albert A. Webb Associates, Baski Inc., Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, Cadiz Inc., CH2M Hill, Chino Basin Water Conservation District, ClimateMaster, Daniel B. Stephens & Associates, Inc., Edward S. Babcock & Sons, Inc., GEI Consultants, Inc. Bookman-Edmonston Division, GeoSystems Analysis, Inc., Inland Empire Utilities Agency, Instrumentation Northwest, Kennedy Jenks Consultants, Komex, Layne Christensen Company, Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, MWH Americas, Inc., Roscoe Moss Company, Schlumberger Water Services, Valley Soil, Inc., Water Education Foundation, Water Resources Collections & Archives, Water Strategist, Westbay Instruments, Western Municipal Water District, Wildermuth Environmental, Inc.
